I have been called a talented strategic thinker, writer & blogger. I've got Broad experience with B2C & B2B, RFPs, proposals, promotions, websites, corporate and organization communications of all types. I will work with you or your team to write compelling, results-oriented copy for your company. Quick turnaround on projects guaranteed. I am available to work on a regular retainer basis, or by project.

Last year, I authored several blogs; designed, authored and produced two web sites; wrote five press releases; four feature articles; a couple of questionnaires; and an 87-page RFP for an enterprise-wide project. During this same period, I functioned as the consulting writer on a couple of business plans, and provided regular editing services to a number of large corporations.

My experience includes tenure as the in-house PR manager at a Fortune 500 computer company; VP of Public Relations at a boutique Ad agency; account manager at Miller Communications; and fifteen years at the helm of my own firm: McHenry & Associates.

I have had the pleasure of working for Time Warner Interactive, Quarterdeck Office Systems, and a number of Oregon-based companies like Pacific CommWare; Paul Mace Software, Covox and NightHawk Graphics. I was appointed to the Oregon

Telecommunications Forum Council by former Gov. John Kitzhaber, M.D. in 1997 for a two-year term.
